All aboard! It's the Coast cattle train

THIS is how hundreds of Sunshine Coast commuters go to work each day.

They get up early and endure hours on trains, sometimes without basic services like toilets.

And then they turn around and do it all again in the afternoon.

But the Newman State Government says it will not act quickly, despite calls for help going back decades. Yesterday, the Daily's Kathy Sundstrom got up at 4.44am to join the Coast rail throng. She was shocked.

UP CLOSE AND PERSONAL: Not one of the 50 Sunshine Coast-bound passengers on the 5pm train from Roma Street to Nambour seems happy as they head home yesterday. The Daily's Kathy Sundstrom took the commuter trip there and back, and found frustration and anger. PHOTO: JEFF ADDISON/RAIL BACK ON TRACK

BREASTFEED BAN RILES MUMS

AN APOLOGY to a young mum asked not to breastfeed at a public pool was not enough. That is the view of more than 30 mothers who plan to protest on Saturday outside a council-owned pool. Liana Webster, 26, said she was humiliated and in tears after being asked to stop breastfeeding her youngest child at the side of the public pool. She was watching her other youngsters swimming. TURN TO PAGE 7
